Challenge

“Since our Logistics Specialist moved to another job during the holiday period, it was difficult to fill the open vacancy on the short term. Therefore we chose to hire a temporary resource to secure the progress of the operational business”.

Planning + Solution

“We required someone with the experience and knowledge that was able to start directly with the execution of the job. Additionally there were two projects in progress which had to be continued, where the Interim Logistics Specialist role was involved. It was important that these projects were not delayed. Therefore we chose for the Interim Planning + concept of EyeOn”.

As Interim Logistics Specialist the EyeOn consultant was responsible for display planning and inventory management. During the operational execution he was in close contact with our external logistics service providers, responsible for the co-packing of the products and the related inventories.

In addition to the operational activities the Logistics Specialist was involved in two running projects: an EDI project to improve the inventory management process, and a project to introduce a product on the market. In these projects the planner was responsible for all logistical and planning related activities. Finally the planner from EyeOn initiated a new project to define and calculate a new display planning process, based on the existing way of working with the external logistics service providers.

The Overall Experience

“EyeOn realized my expectation of hiring a skilled and reliable professional, who can contribute a little extra. The “+” for me was in the speed with which the consultant learned the content of the job and could start with the execution. The running projects were therefore also not delayed. Finally after 2 months we fulfilled the open vacancy with someone who could start immediately. Therefore the period of the Interim Planner was only limited to 2 months”.
